

Informa Markets in India announces CPhI's 7th edition of the Cleaning Validation Workshop

CPhI Conferences, a division of Informa Markets in India hosts many successful pharmaceutical conferences in the country, has announced the 7th edition of the Cleaning Validation Workshop scheduled on 21 - 22 November 2022 at Meluha The Fern, Mumbai.

CPhI Conferences has established Cleaning Validation Workshop as a brand which is a “must attend” workshop for the pharmaceutical industry. The workshop is specially crafted to support the pharma & biopharma professionals dealing with cleaning validation in their day-to-day activities. The past 6 editions of the Cleaning Validation Workshop have been well received by industry professionals to enhance their knowledge, exchange ideas, learn from industry peers, ensure business continuity, and shape the future of the pharma industry. The successful preceding editions were led by world-renowned cleaning validation experts along with solution provider stalwarts with their diverse experience in cleaning validation solutions.

The course will provide training and understanding of the cleaning validation (CV) process & will cover everything from cycle devolvement to continued process verification. Additional topics include preventing common CV mistakes, smart rinse limits, and pre-CV insights.

This two-day workshop will have globally renowned trainer who will share insights via case studies, presentations and Q&A. He has worked in the pharmaceutical industry for 22 years which has included small and large molecule API and finished-product manufacturing. Every position held (Catalent, AstraZeneca [formerly Amylin] Boehringer Ingelheim, Teva, Astellas, Bayer, and Novo Nordisk) was focused on cleaning and cleaning validation (CV). Having the opportunity to work for these major pharmaceutical companies gave Fred a good perspective on industry best practices and practical solutions.
